

THE TRUE HISTORY OF FACTION PARADOX VOL. 6: THE JUDGMENT OF SUTEKH

Magic Bullet Productions are pleased to announce the release of The True History of Faction Paradox vol. 6: The Judgment of Sutekh, the sixth and final instalment in our line of Gothic, time-twisting CD audio adventures.

The True History of Faction Paradox is a series of powerful, compelling audio stories which feature characters and concepts originally created for the BBC's critically-acclaimed Doctor Who novels by Lawrence Miles. Revolving around the war-torn saga of Faction Paradox, a mysterious time-travelling organisation which is part cult, part crime syndicate and part conspiracy, The True History of Faction Paradox can be enjoyed on its own or as part of the extensive range of Faction Paradox books, comics, art and online media.

Written by Faction Paradox creator and award-winning writer Lawrence Miles, and starring Gabriel Woolf as Sutekh along with Edward de Souza (of “Doctor Who”, “Sapphire and Steel” and “Coronation Street” fame), Wanda Opalinska (of “Coronation Street”) and Jane Lesley, the CD is directed by Alan Stevens, co-creator of the acclaimed Kaldor City CD audio series, and Alistair Lock, who also realised the sound design, effects and music. Earlier series guest stars include Isla Blair, Chris Tranchell, Peter Miles, Peter Halliday and Julian Glover.

Faction Paradox: The Judgment of Sutekh concludes the story begun in Coming to Dust and continued in four subsequent full-length audio adventures. As two explorers trapped on Mars find themselves pawns in a deadly power game between Faction Paradox and their old adversary Lolita, War Queen of the Great Houses, the final battle between Osirian brothers Sutekh and Horus threatens to tear the fabric of space and time to shreds. At the end of the day, only one will be victorious... but who it will be remains the greatest mystery of all....

Faction Paradox CDs are available in the UK, Europe, the USA, New Zealand and Australia from all major SF audio dealers.
